Computer History Museum

John Mashey

Trustee

Computer History Museum

www.computerhistory.org

Museum's International Mission

- Mission – To Preserve the Artifacts & Stories of the Information Age

- Vision - To Explore the Computing Revolution and It's Impact on the Human Experience

- Moving Forward:
  - Collecting over 25 years
  - Boston Artifacts moved to Silicon Valley in 1996
  - Independent 501(c)(3) in July 1999
  - New Home in Mountain View, CA in 2002
    1401 N. Shoreline Dr, next to 101, with purple "on button"
  - Phase 1 Opened June 2003
  - Planning for the next 100+ years

www.computerhistory.org

The Museum's Home

In June, 2003, the Computer History Museum began Phase 1 in this 120,000 sf landmark building in Silicon Valley.

Our "Largest Artifact!"
www.computerhistory.org

The Museum's Programs Today

- Speaker Series
  - History, history-in-the-making, special topics, exec briefs
- Preservation Activities
  - Oral Histories   - Active Collection of the Past
  - Videos & Photos   - Proactive Collection for the Future
- Restorations
  - Understand and restore environments of the past
  - IBM 1620; PDP-1; IBM 1401; Many PC's from study collection
- Initial Phase of the CyberMuseum
  - Innovation beyond the web site;
  - Virtual Visible Storage
- Events
  - Seminars, film presentation, education, socials, board meetings, dinners; Fellows Awards (1/ year)
    www.computerhistory.org

A Brief History of Time & Technology

Compute Power/ Person

Stone tools 50,000 BC

Computers 1945-

Much!

Steam Engine 1712 AD

Agriculture 9,000 BC

~zero

| 50,000 BC | 40,000 BC | 30,000 BC | 20,000 BC | 10,000 BC | 1AD 2,000 AD |

www.computerhistory.org

COMPUTER HISTORY MUSEUM

Visible Storage

Our Visible Storage warehouse display contains 600 key objects from the collection.

www.computerhistory.org

COMPUTER HISTORY MUSEUM
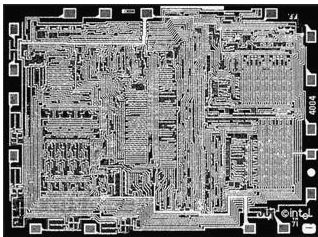

3

Visit Visible Storage

The Microprocessing Display in Visible Storage
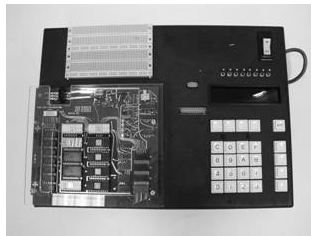

www.computerhistory.org

Microprocessing in the Collection

4004 microprocessor die shot, Intel 1971, Credit: Intel Corporation

BUSICOM Calculator, Engineering Prototype, 1971, Credit: Gift of Federico Faggin

Prolog development kit for an Intel 4004, Gift of Rhodes Hileman
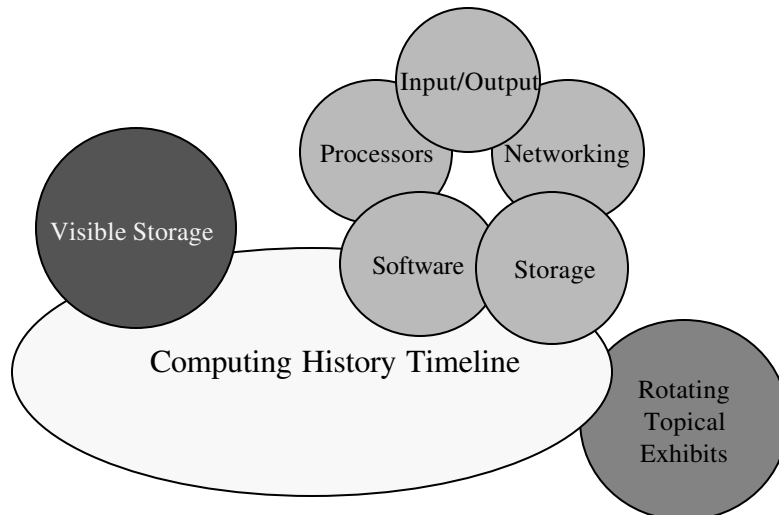

www.computerhistory.org

Visible Storage

www.computerhistory.org

The Museum's Future Exhibition Galleries

Input/Output

Processors

Networking

Visible Storage

Software

Storage

Computing History Timeline

Rotating Topical Exhibits

www.computerhistory.org

Odysseys In Technology Speaker Series

Leading innovators share personal stories about developments and discoveries that have shaped our world.

The Macintosh Marketing Story:
Fact & Fiction, 20 Years Later

Mike Murray, Mike Boich,
Andy Cunningham, Joanna Hoffman,
Guy Kawasaki & Steve Scheier

January 22, 2004

www.computerhistory.org

Upcoming Events

Save-The-Date

2004 Fellow Awards

Honoring

Erich Bloch, Dan Bricklin, Bob Evans,

Bob Frankston and Niklaus Wirth

Tuesday, October 19

www.computerhistory.org

Desk Set
Sponsored by
NETFLIX

Directed by Walter Lang
Starring Spencer Tracy and
Katherine Hepburn

Wednesday, August 25
6 p.m., Tours
7 p.m., Movie
FREE
Co-presented by

CINEQUEST

www.computerhistory.org

COMPUTER HISTORY MUSEUM

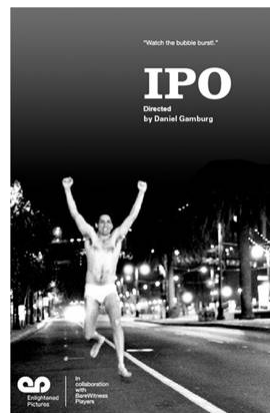

IPO: The Movie

Directed by Daniel Gamburg
Starring Kerry Gudjohnsen and
Matthew Gardner

Thursday, September 23
6 p.m., Tours
7 p.m., Movie
FREE

Co-presented by

CINEQUEST

www.computerhistory.org

COMPUTER HISTORY MUSEUM

Be a Museum Volunteer

Volunteers amplify the activities of Museum staff by assisting at lectures, receptions, tours and special functions. They add value in all areas of the Museum's operations.

www.computerhistory.org

Donate Artifacts to the Museum

- CHM's collection includes thousands of historically significant hardware, software, manuals, technical documents, photographs, video, and marketing materials

- To donate:
  - Visit our website at www.computerhistory.org for info.
  - Send a detailed list for CHM for consideration to the Museum: Email to Allison Akbay at akbay@computerhistory.org
  - Staff will be in contact with decision & logistics

- Our collection was built by the proactive efforts of organizations, companies, computing pioneers, hobbyists, collectors & individuals like you!

www.computerhistory.org